Papers, 1968 to 1980s

Biographical/Historical Sketch

Charles L. DeBenedetti was born on January 27, 1943. A Chicago native, he earned a bachelor of science degree from Loyola University (1964) and a master of arts (1965) and doctor of philosophy (1968) degrees from the University of Illinois, Urbana. In 1968, DeBenedetti joined the University of Toledo History Department and taught courses in the history of U.S. foreign relations and peace movements in American History. DeBenedetti joined the UT faculty as an assistant professor of history, was named associate professor in 1972, and a professor of history in 1978.

In addition to An American Ordeal: The Antiwar Movement of the Vietnam Era, 1990, DeBenedetti published The Peace Reform in American History, 1982, and Origins of the Modern American Peace Movement, 1915-1929, 1979. He also wrote various articles on American and diplomatic history and the peace movement.

DeBenedetti received a Rockefeller Foundation Humanities Fellowship in 1979 for his research on the antiwar movement from 1961-1975. In 1980, the foundation invited him to reside at its Bellagio Study and Conference Center in Italy for four weeks while drafting an essay on the antiwar movement. Too, he was a guest lecturer on dissent and Vietnam at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1980 and 1983.

DeBenedetti devoted a great deal of effort to the Council on Peace Research in History. He was on the Executive Council from 1973 and served as both secretary-treasurer and president. In 1984 he co-edited Peace and Change.

In 1982, DeBenedetti drew national attention when he uncovered a previously classified top secret report from the CIA to President Lyndon Johnson. It indicated that the CIA believed there was no Communist link to American protests against the Vietnam War, a situation the President refused to accept. DeBenedetti uncovered the report during his research at the Johnson Presidential Library in Austin, Texas.

Charles DeBenedetti died of a brain tumor on January 27, 1987- his 44th birthday. Charles Chatfield, a professor of history at Wittenberg University, completed DeBenedetti's last book, An American Ordeal: The Antiwar Movement of the Vietnam Era, in 1990.

Scope and Content Note

This collection contains the personal and professional papers of Charles DeBenedetti, professor of History at the University of Toledo from 1968 to 1986. The collection documents his research interests and work as a faculty member. An addition to the papers made in 2002 includes files from work done after DeBenedetti's death by Charles Chatfield, a professor in History at Wittenberg University, who completed Dr. DeBenedetti's last book, An American Ordeal: The Antivar Movement of the Vietnam Era.

The collection is arranged by topic into four series: Series I- Department of History/Faculty Activities; Series II- Outside Interests; Series III- Research and Publications; and Series IV- Charles Chatfield Files. The collection occupies 18 linear feet.

Series List

S1 Department of History and Faculty Activities

Five sub-series: Biographical Information (pictures and clippings about Charles DeBenedetti); Personal and Professional Correspondence (arranged alphabetically by correspondent or organization); Course Related Materials; Department of History Activities; and University Activities.

Particularly, correspondents include Charles Chatfield, Norman Graebner, Warren Kuehl, and Robert Pickus.

S2 Outside Interests

Information on organizations and interests DeBenedetti was engaged in. Specifically, he was active in Christian peace efforts, antiwar activities, Italian interest groups, and history organizations.

S3 Research and Publications

Documents of DeBenedetti's works, Articles, Books, Papers, Research and Revisions form a large part of the series. Organizationally, books are divided into chapters. The Necessary Reform: The American Peace Movement and Foreign Policy 1918-1929; Ordeal for a Nation: The Antiwar Movement and America, 1955-1975; Peace Heroes In Twentieth Century America and Peace Reform in American History are all part of this section.

S4 Charles Chatfield Files

Included are Book Background Material, which consists of early drafts of the book written by DeBenedetti as well as correspondence with Chatfield concerning his role in the project; Charles Chatfield drafts of the book; and Research Materials, which consists of notes, papers, and other research related items compiled by both DeBenedetti and Chatfield.
